

For brokers and producers only

Date: June 10, 2021

Markets: All

Transforming Healthcare

Stay informed on how CareFirst is fundamentally changing the way healthcare works. Read more about the actions we're taking to rein in rising costs and improve quality of care and member experience on our Transforming Healthcare microsite.

Latest Feature Stories

The Future of Value-Based Care

In our first-ever podcast, Brian Wheeler, Vice President of Provider Collaboration and Network Transformation, discusses how CareFirst is investing in Value-Based Care.

Value-Based Care Prioritizes Wellness Over Sick Care

In the second part of a two-part Q&A series, Brian Wheeler, Vice President of Provider Collaboration and Network Transformation, discusses how Value-Based Care prioritizes quality over volume.

Other Top Stories

- Q&A: Better Together with Mary's Center

In the following Q&A, we discuss how funding from CareFirst will help D.C. communities break free from the unrelenting grip of the pandemic.

- Making a Difference During COVID-19

From the very start of the pandemic, CareFirst has been there for its members, employers, healthcare partners, employees and communities. See some of the ways we've offered support to those we serve thus far.

- How Grants Awarded to FQHCs Can Combat COVID-19 Vaccine Adoption

Dr. Destiny-Simone Ramjohn, Vice President of Community Health and Social Impact, recently spoke to The AFRO about grants awarded to Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs) in support of removing barriers to the COVID-19 vaccine to combat racial disparities in vaccine distribution and adoption.

- The Role of Technology in Efficient and Equitable Vaccinations

CareFirst's Executive Vice President and Chief Information Officer, David Kaercher, shares the importance of technology in a national vaccine distribution strategy.

- What will be the Pandemic's Mental Health Legacy?

CareFirst's Executive Vice President of Health Services, Stacia A. Cohen, R.N., MBA, joined the panel during MedCity INVEST to discuss mental healthcare disparities and the pandemic's broader effect on mental health.

- Behavioral Health Trends to Watch

Laura Patterson, Venture Capital, Healthworx, recently shared insights surrounding three behavioral health trends worth our attention as we consider additional investments into solutions seeking to improve the coordination and delivery of behavioral health.

- CEOs Outline Goals for Ethical and Effective Data Sharing

Health Evolution sat down with industry leaders, including CareFirst's President and CEO, Brian D. Pieninck, to talk about data sharing in the healthcare industry and how it can be used in the future.

- Bridging the Digital Equity Gap for Baltimore Residents

What do digital equity and health equity have in common? More than you think.

- CareFirst Champions American Rescue Plan

Increasing the accessibility, affordability and quality of healthcare for all is at the heart of The American Rescue Plan Act of 2021, which aligns perfectly with CareFirst's mission as a not-for-profit organization.

- How Plans Are Supporting Providers on Their Value-Based Care Journey

World Congress recently hosted a panel discussion highlighting the importance of applying a phased approach to meet providers where they are at to accelerate success in value-based care arrangements.

Keep up to date on the steps we're taking to make a difference in our industry, our communities and the lives of the people we serve. We'll be posting new articles regularly. So be sure to check back often and share this information with your clients and colleagues.